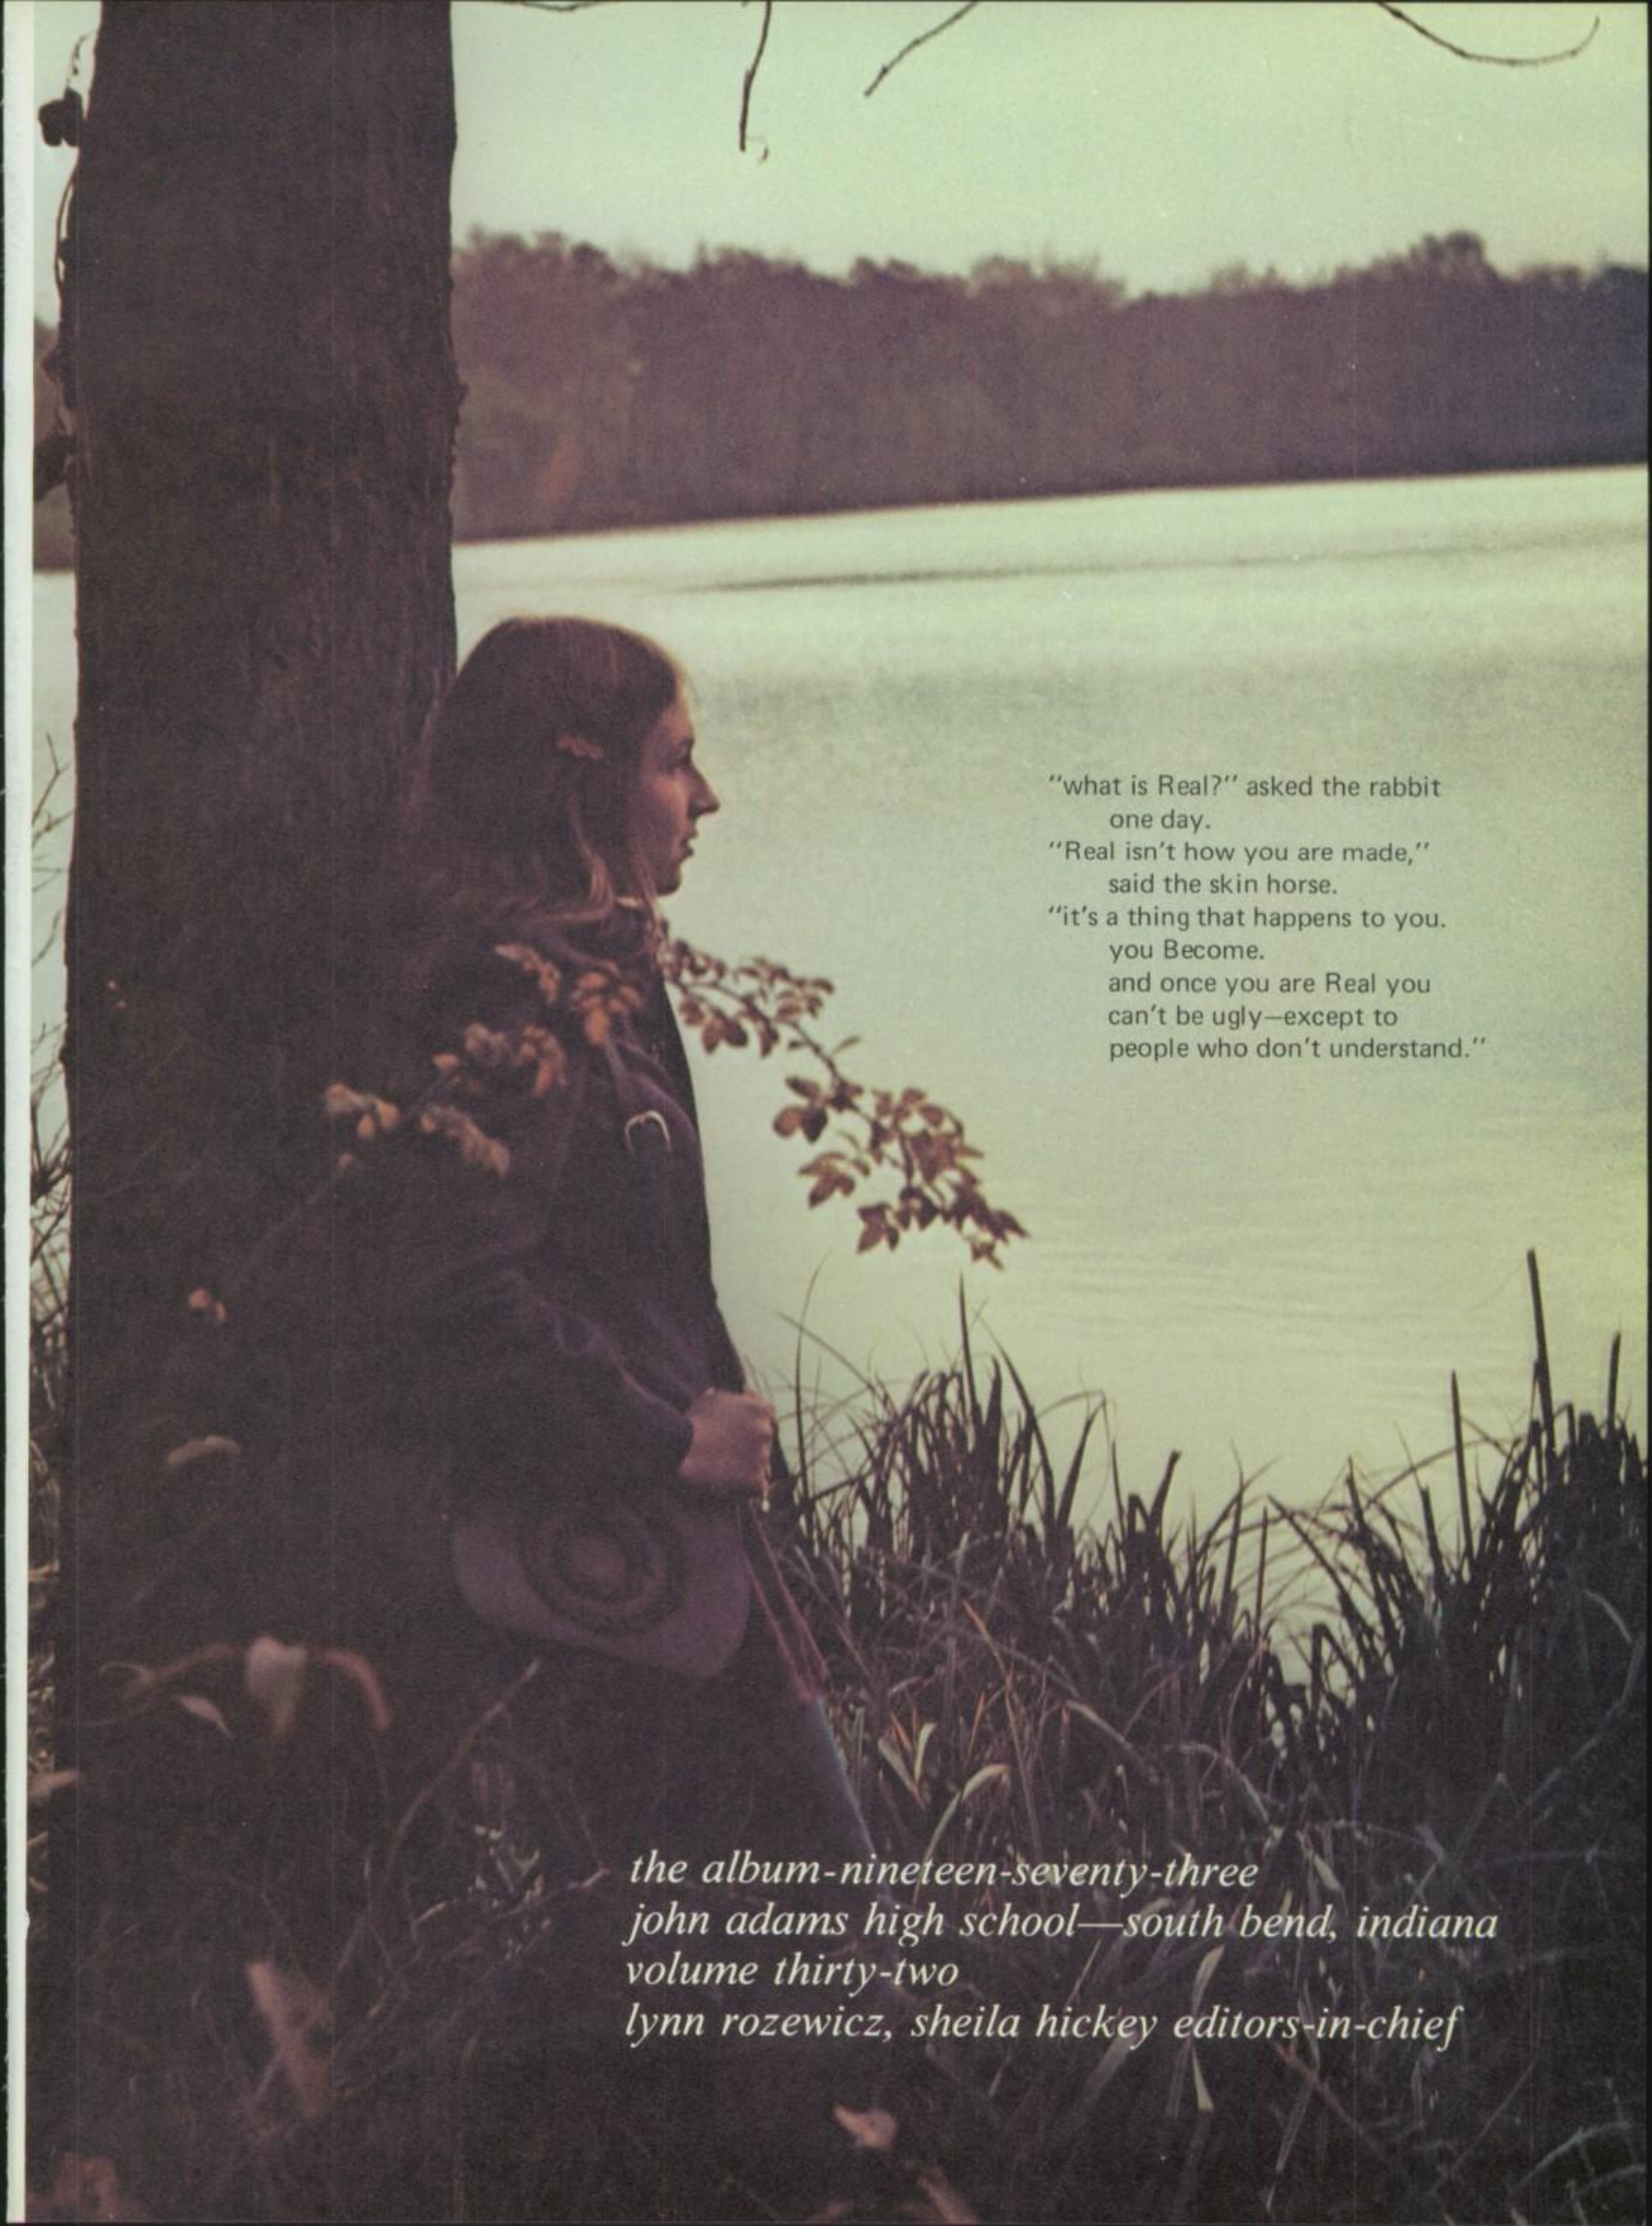
JOHN ADAMS HIGH SCHOOL
ALBUM · 1973



"what is Real?" asked the rabbit
one day.
"Real isn't how you are made,"
said the skin horse.
"it's a thing that happens to you.
you Become.
and once you are Real you can't be ugly—except to people who don't understand."

Believe in the person you are.
realize that you were born into a world that needs your giving,
your love,
yourself.

Dare to live the person you are.
open your life,

Think.
Your head is spinning, your mind is turning up blanks like the "No Sale" sign on a cash register. You just can't think. Why? Who knows? Check out your mind—it happens to everyone. For decades people have sat behind these desks wracking their brains for the real answer. Understand—you can do it. You have no way to go but up. Think about it. Learn what you can—a little more, Day by day.

Blood, sweat, and tears

Julie Kertz
John Heisler—A champion's tribute

It takes people with strong minds

Although it fell short of pre-season hopes, the 1972 John Adams football team managed a fine season with key wins against Elkhart Central and Mishawaka. After an early season loss to Marian, the Eagles came back for wins against Mishawaka and LaPorte and upset 2nd ranked Elkhart. A cold and rainy win at Michigan City put the team in position for a conference title but these hopes were cancelled after a loss to Washington the following week. The season was highlighted by the play of Chubby Phillips, Mike Parseghian, Rick Mitchem, James Tolbert and Kevin Patterson in the backfield, and a host of other fine players on the offensive line. The team boasted a staunch defense led by linebackers Parseghian and Cole. An added asset was the "toe" of Bill Stinchcomb, who kicked 7 fieldgoals to supplement his quarterbacking duties. Unable to salvage a share of the conference title, the Eagles ended their season with a record of 6-3. Parseghian, Phillips and Stinchcomb earned state recognition.

a solid world . . .

Behind the scenes last fall, the B-team and freshman squad steadily progressed, despite only mediocre records.

The Beagles, led by coaches Howie Hardman and Mike Szucs, finished at 4-3-1 thanks to some strong defensive efforts. Dave Livers and Herbie Graves handled most of the quarterbacking and running chores, while Ric Wade headed up the defensive unit. The highlight of the year was a 42-28 romp over Elkhart Central.

Coach Len Buczkowski's Frosh managed only one victory, but the freshmen have three years to show what they can do. Tim Spainhower was impressive at the fullback and linebacker spots, and Jim Kestermeier was also a creditable performer.

The 1972-73 Cross Country Team under coach Dan Poe compiled a record of 9 wins and 6 losses.

The season started slowly for the Roadrunners with two forfeits, due to lack of team depth, but through strenuous practice and dilligent work, they came up with a fine season. Pat Daniels, who finished second in the city meet, was chosen most valuable player. Other fine performances were given by Captain John Kujawski and teammates Mike Jaicomo, Tim McClure, Ken Green, Ted Windmiller, and Tom Pawlak.

Coach McNarney's young tennis team gained the respect of the conference as the season progressed. The most valuable player, Chris Fallon, won the singles title in the sectional and regional tournaments and took third place in the state finals at Indianapolis, where John Adams High School placed fifth. The Netters were really a tough team as each gave their best to win at all times. An overall record of seven wins and three losses for the season placed them second in the N.I.C. and closed a successful season. Members of the 1972 varsity team were Chris Fallon, Jeff True, Terry Fallon, Tom Brickley, Roger Heise, and Bill Marentette.

The John Adams Girls Swim Team swam to their second consecutive no defeat, no challenge, no problem, state title this year. Led by Captains, Lynn Ziker and Sue Manak, the female titans once again proved their strength compiling a 7-0 dual meet record. The season ended with a smashing 94½ point victory at the state finals.

The rewarding year was continually paced by the first year coach, Mrs. Lynn Bradley. Long hours of swimming, diving and more swimming paid off as Adams had three individual state champions, one relay champion and one medley runner-up. Outstanding at every meet and placing first at the state meet were Seniors Polly Ehlers, and Sue Manak, and Juniors Kathy Komora, Abby Smith, Missy Lowe and Sue Busch. Congratulations and praise are due to these girls, a year of hard work to capture the second consecutive state championship.

The 1973 Girls Gymnastics Team, under the direction of 2nd year coach, Sherry Brown, compiled a 6-2 record and captured the beginning and intermediate sectional trophies.

The team spent many long hours practicing and produced several star performers: Nancy Gassensmith, who placed first in regional intermediate level, floor exercise competition, Julie Kertz who placed first in sectional level, vaulting and all around, second in floor-exercise, and third on balance beam, and Becky Hentz, who placed first in beginning level unevens, balance beam, and floor exercise, and fourth in vaulting. Other team members who made outstanding contributions were Vickie Wade, Buffy Janus, Bridget Baron, and Diane DuVall.

In their 6th year of existence, the John Adams Gymnasts led by Coach Dan Poe and Captain Steve Richmand finished off its season with a disappointing 3-7 record. So far, the gymnasts have only been able to compile one winning season as they met rugged competition around the state.

The season started slowly with the team dropping their opener against Jimtown and then splitting the next two dual meets. The gymnasts then fell into a losing streak, falling short of victories in the next meets until firsts by Terry Smith, Marc Woodford and Larry Holtzman sparked them on to a decisive victory over DeKalb.

In sectional competition, MVP Terry Smith placed fourth on rings and all-around, Marc Woodford fourth in vaulting, and Larry Holtzman tenth on horizontal bar. In the state gymnastics competition, Terry Smith ranked tenth on rings and Marc Woodford seventh in vaulting.

Riding a wave high with talent and victory, the John Adams Seagles swam to a third place finish in state competition. Participating in only two losing efforts this year, the swimmers ventured to their tenth consecutive NIC crown.

Led by Co-Captains Hoke Busch and Dan Harrigan, the swimmers ran off 7 straight victories before losing to Munster and Jackson, finishing 11-2 in dual competition.

The Seagles finished second in city wide competition, but bounced back to snatch the conference meet crown. The final showdown during sectional competition brought a heart-breaking second place, again to Jackson. Continuing through regional swimming the Seagles blazed their trail to a third place finish at the state finals.

The John Adams Volleyball Team had a relatively successful 3-7 season. Tough competition throughout the season, combined with injuries at tourney time, resulted in many close losses.

The team, molded by Coach Ganser and Ass't Coach Paar worked for perfection of technique and form. Co-Captains Angela Kendall and Mary Flanigan lent experience to the young team. Although a newly established team, returning underclassmen should add know-how to next year's squad.

With the crowning of Rick Mitchem as the 185 pound state champion, Coach Moe Aronson and his 1972-73 wrestling team finished the season with an 8-5 record that earned them a third place finish in the NIC.

Mitchem, unbeaten in 25 bouts, was voted most valuable wrestler and next years captain of a squad that lost only three wrestlers to graduation.

Last season had its ups and downs, but all in all it produced super athletes. Seniors Connie Henry, Kevin Phillips, and Bruce Cassady; Juniors Ric Wade and Aaron Watson; Sophomore Steve Brownell; and Freshmen sensations Tom Pauszeck and Andre Scruggs contributed to a fine season.

Assistant Coach Mike Szucs sports a promising junior varsity squad that commanded an impressive mark for the 72-73 campaign. Next year looks like another blue chip season for Eagle wrestling fans.

Progressing slowly, and marred by injuries, the 1973 Adams Baseball Team began to show the quality of their talents by late season. Traveling to Evansville, a first for an Adams team, the Eagles had their problems. A shaky defense and inconsistent hitting led to early defeats. However, as the season wore on, the Eagles improved on their fundamentals and the work paid off. The team showed this comeback, winning their last 10 of 12 games, including victories over La-Porte, St. Joe, and Washington, all highly ranked teams. Led by pitchers Kevin Patterson and Steve Austin, the hitting of Morris Green and Ron Freese, and the brilliant defense of Al Taylor, the team entered tournament play with heads held high.

Adams can look forward to a bright baseball future as underclassmen Rick Mitchem, Marty Laymen, Jim Szabo, and Mike Bilinski gained valuable experience this season.

The John Adams Girls Softball team successfully completely its second varsity season. Diamond opponents included Clay, Riley, North Liberty, Marian, Culver Military, and Washington.

The team, under the fine leadership of Coach Davis and Co-Captains, Gayle Loughridge and Peggy Wolf, led the way for a challenging season of softball. Sportsmanship was the key to the play as many games became quite rough.

Getting off to a shaky start with pitching and batting problems, the girls pulled through for a respectable season. Losing only one senior, next years team will be jam packed with experience and prepared to wipe up the league.

"GO ADAMS TAKE STATE"

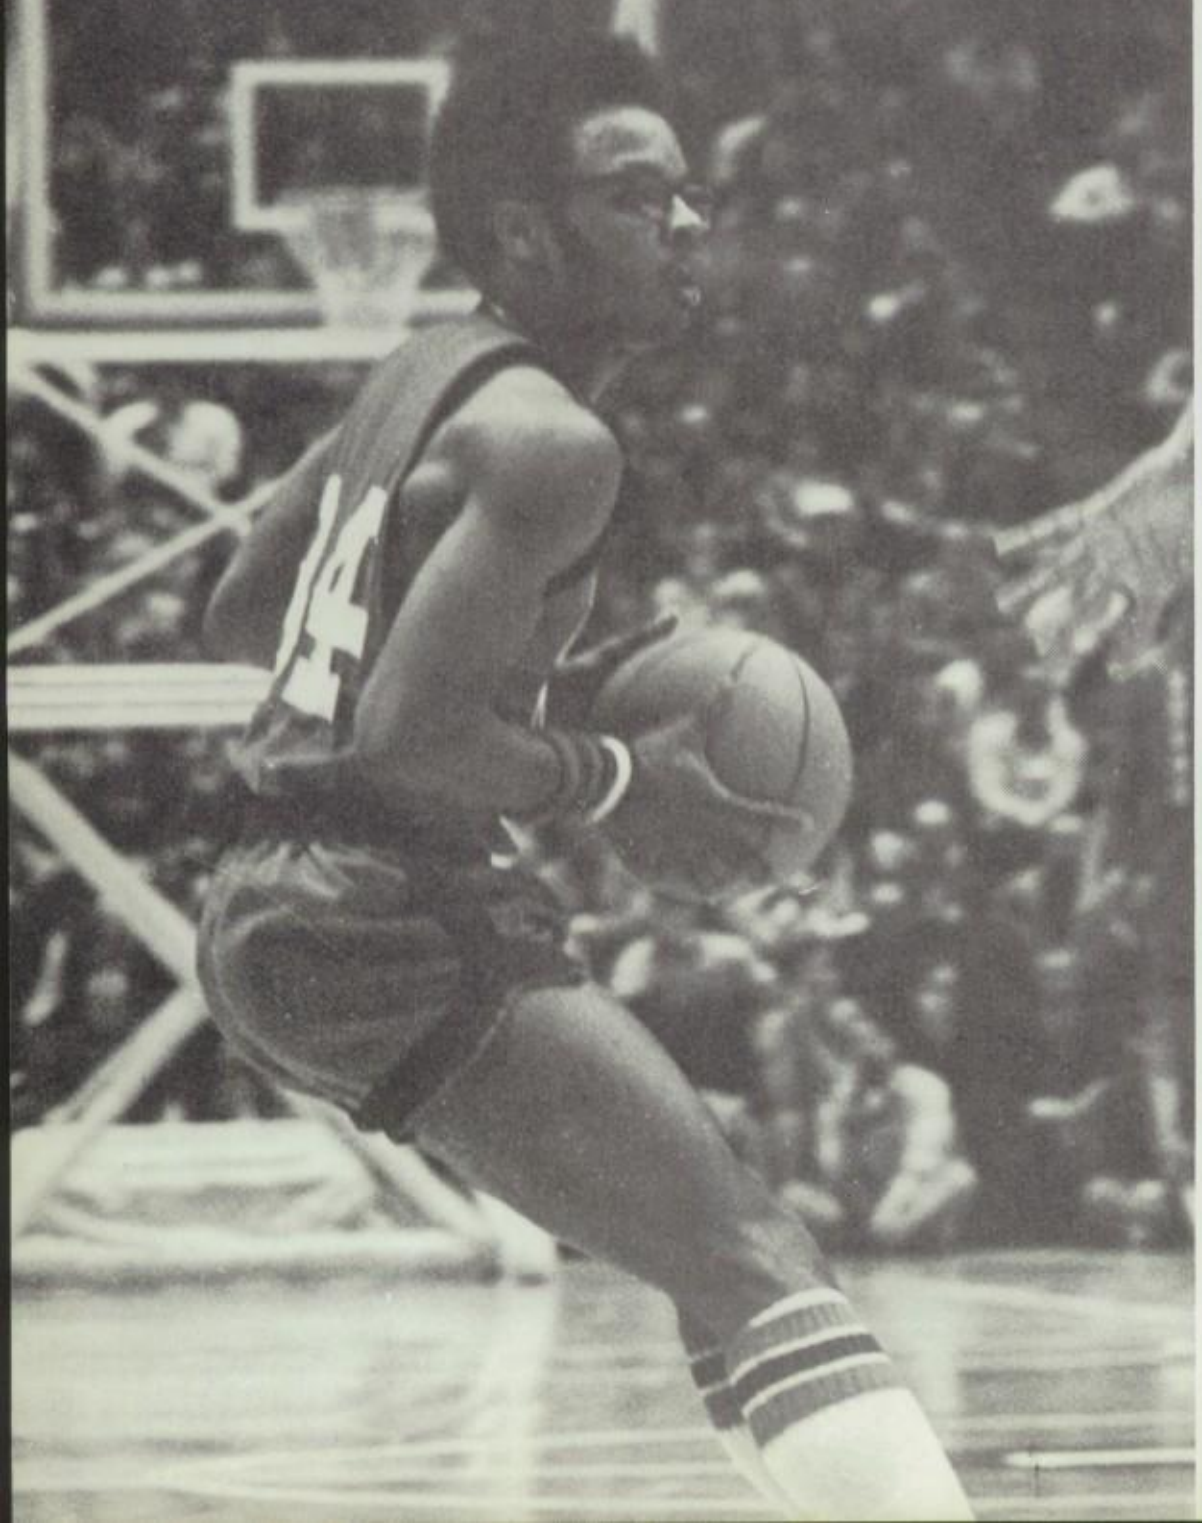
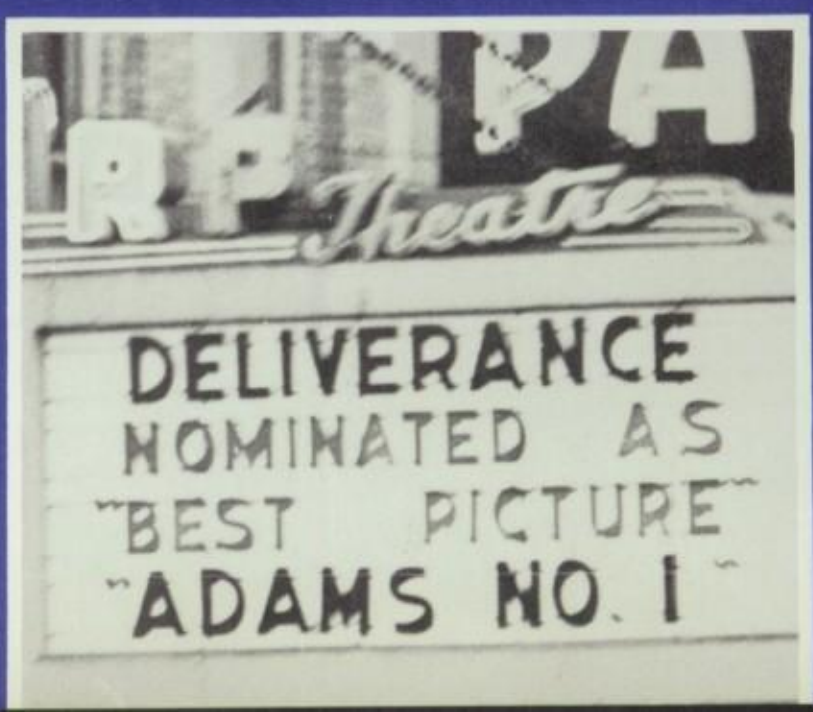
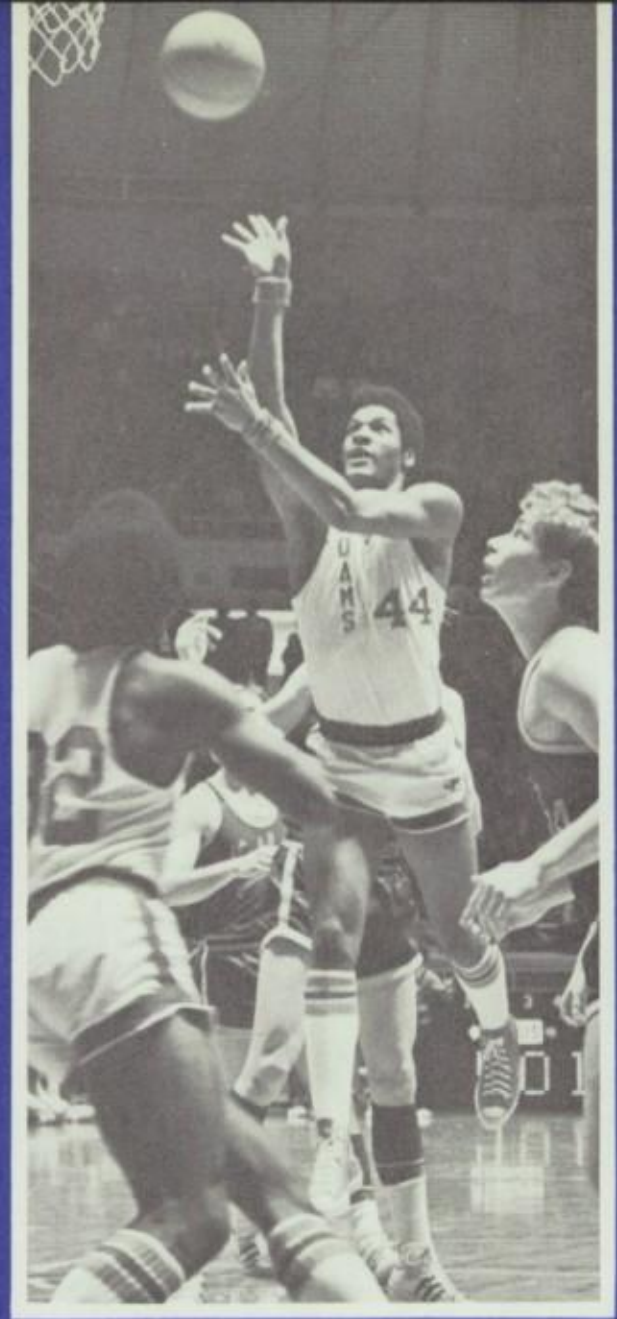
For most basketball teams, a truly super season comes along only once in a lifetime. For the John Adams Eagles, 1973 was the year. Coach Dave Hadaway took his team all the way to the state championship game in a stirring title drive that kept Adams fans at an emotional peak for four glorious weeks. It was a history-making month that will emblazon the memory of every person who was a part of it.

For the 20 individuals who now wear silver rings as a result of that final Saturday night, it was four weeks of hard work. Yet that hard work paid off in something no Adams basketball team had accomplished before it.

For seniors Jim Webb, Steve Austin, Boonie







Hill, Marshall Robinson, Ray Martin, and Dave Bock, it was a dream come true. There will be other years and more chances ahead for the others, but no matter what happens, nothing will ever compare with that first trip to the Final Four.

In beating Anderson in the afternoon game, the Eagles won what was described by many observers as the most exciting game ever played in the state finals. Despite the outcome of the title match, Adams deserved and received nothing but praise for its fine effort. Whatever the future holds for Adams basketball teams, the 1972-73 season will remain a cherished remembrance for everyone at Adams. It was indeed the "Year of the Eagle."

. . . because that would be

Plagued with continual depth problems, the John Adams Track Team, ran to a 3-8 dual meet record, and a fifth place finish in the NIC. Brightened by the presence of Chubby Phillips, Ray Martin, Marc Woodford and others, Coach Hardman's Cindermen found 1973 to be a year of rebuilding.

Tough area opponents allowed only three triumphs, each of which were highlighted by strong field event competition. Consistent blue ribbon winners were Phillips in the 100 and 220 yd. dashes, Martin in the 440 yd. dash, Woodford in the high jump, Mark Buzolich in the hurdles, and Terry Wardlow in the long jump. Adams' relay teams were consistent in strength, running well at home, away, and invitational meets.

Adding to the coaching ingredient was assistant Coach Robert Reed.

. . .and you

Paced by four returning members of John Adams state runner-up team of a year ago, Coach George Griffith has built a golf team deserving of its state-wide recognition. The golf team thus far compiled an unblemished record of 17-0, and is likely to end undefeated.

Moving into the season as state favorites along with last years champion, Anderson, the linkers started playing good golf from the beginning. Led by Dave Heckamen and Scott MacGregor, the Eagles defeated Anderson and 32 other teams to take the team crown at the prestigious LaPorte Invitational. This tournament sets the stage for another possible showdown in the state meet.

Although four seniors will be lost by graduation, Coach Griffith will expect to continue the impressive tradition of Adams golf which has produced a remarkable 65-3 record over the past three years.

The Junior Class was very productive this year. The year started out slowly, but finished with many innovations and changes. The Annual Pizza Sale was, as usual, a huge success. It was such a success, in fact, that the officers decided to spend the extra money and have the Junior Prom at Erskine Park Clubhouse. Chairman Janis Cappert did an excellent job of organization and promotion and the Prom was well attended. For the first time in ten years the Prom itself made a profit. As a result the Junior Class is looking forward to a great Senior Prom next year.

For the first time in Adams' history, the sophomores have been given the opportunity of having class officers. Representing the class are Mark Risinger, President; Darlene Turner, Vice-President; Kerry Kiley, Secretary; and Ann Oren, Treasurer. The cabinet did such commendable work on Spirit Week that they were awarded second place in auditorium decorations. On May 19th they held a car wash which proved to be successful.

Over 500 students entered John Adams this year as freshmen. Due to the cancellation of the annual "Freshman Show You Round", the sale of elevator passes skyrocketed. With little opportunity to participate in student government, the freshmen of the 1972-73 school year established the first freshman class board and officers in the history of the school. Class sponsors were Miss McMann and Mr. Steinke. Class officers are Sandy Duxbury, President; Sarah Yang, v-president; Kathy Austin, secretary; and Maxie Bolden, treasurer.

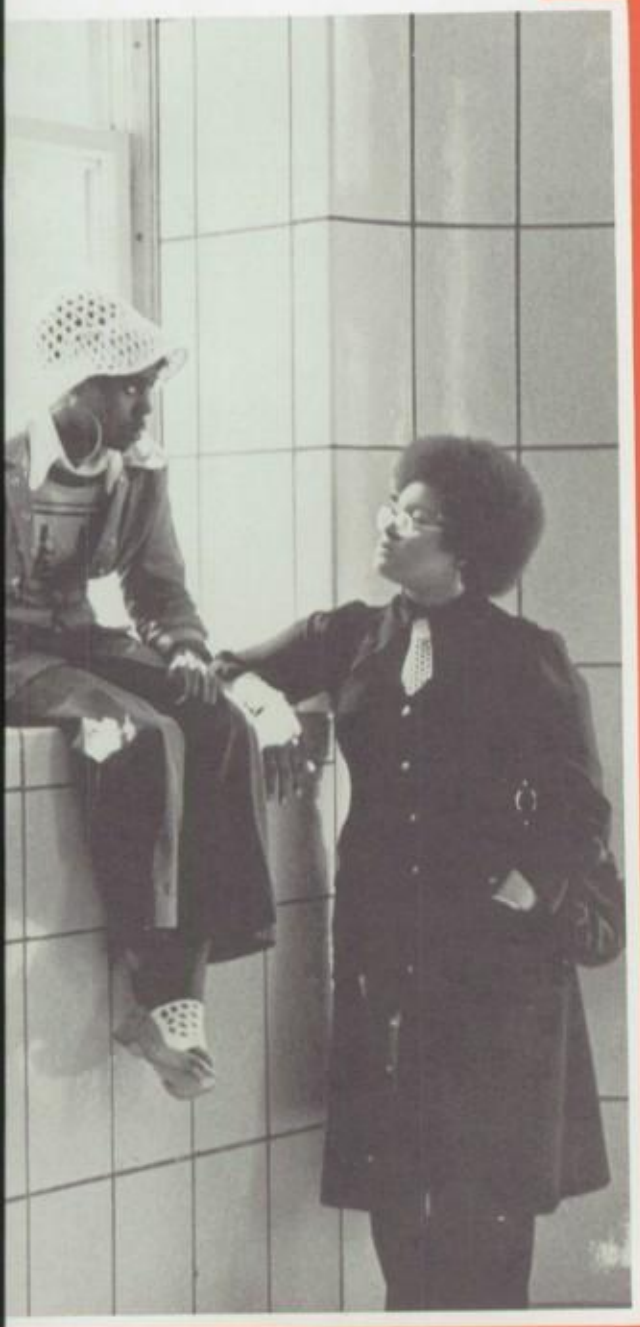
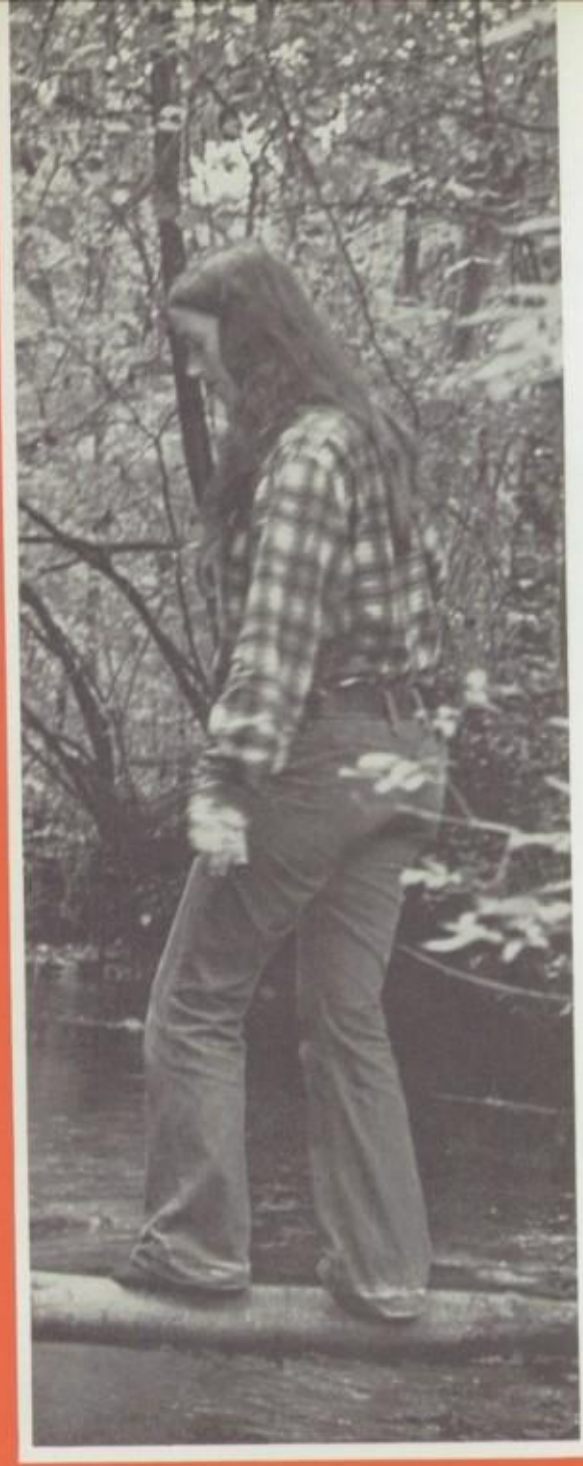
The way we are





Dee Dee Zink

Spirit unites us . . .

Sue Manak and Dee Dee Zink share the satisfaction and pride of parents on Dad's night.

Bridget Baran, Kate Kasper, and Sally Smith get experience making their first Booster Club float.

Ric Wade demands $1,000,000 for the safe return of Susie Smith.

The Pom Pon girls, led by Kathy Scott and Jennifer Grant, participate in the homecoming parade.

. . . Determination

dims our differences . . .

Being a senior with only three classes gives Kathy Green the pleasure of not coming to school until 10:20.

Peggy Voss gives Wendy Welter the cold shoulder.

Mike Wilbur, Mark Eskridge, and Dave Evans take timeout for a quick game of euchre.

. . Companionship

Carol McGregor wonders why everyone is in such a hurry.

Right: Rainy weather doesn't dampen student spirit.

Carlotta Moore and Linda Ashe discuss the relative merits of George McGovern before listening to Sen. Edward Kennedy at Stephan Center.

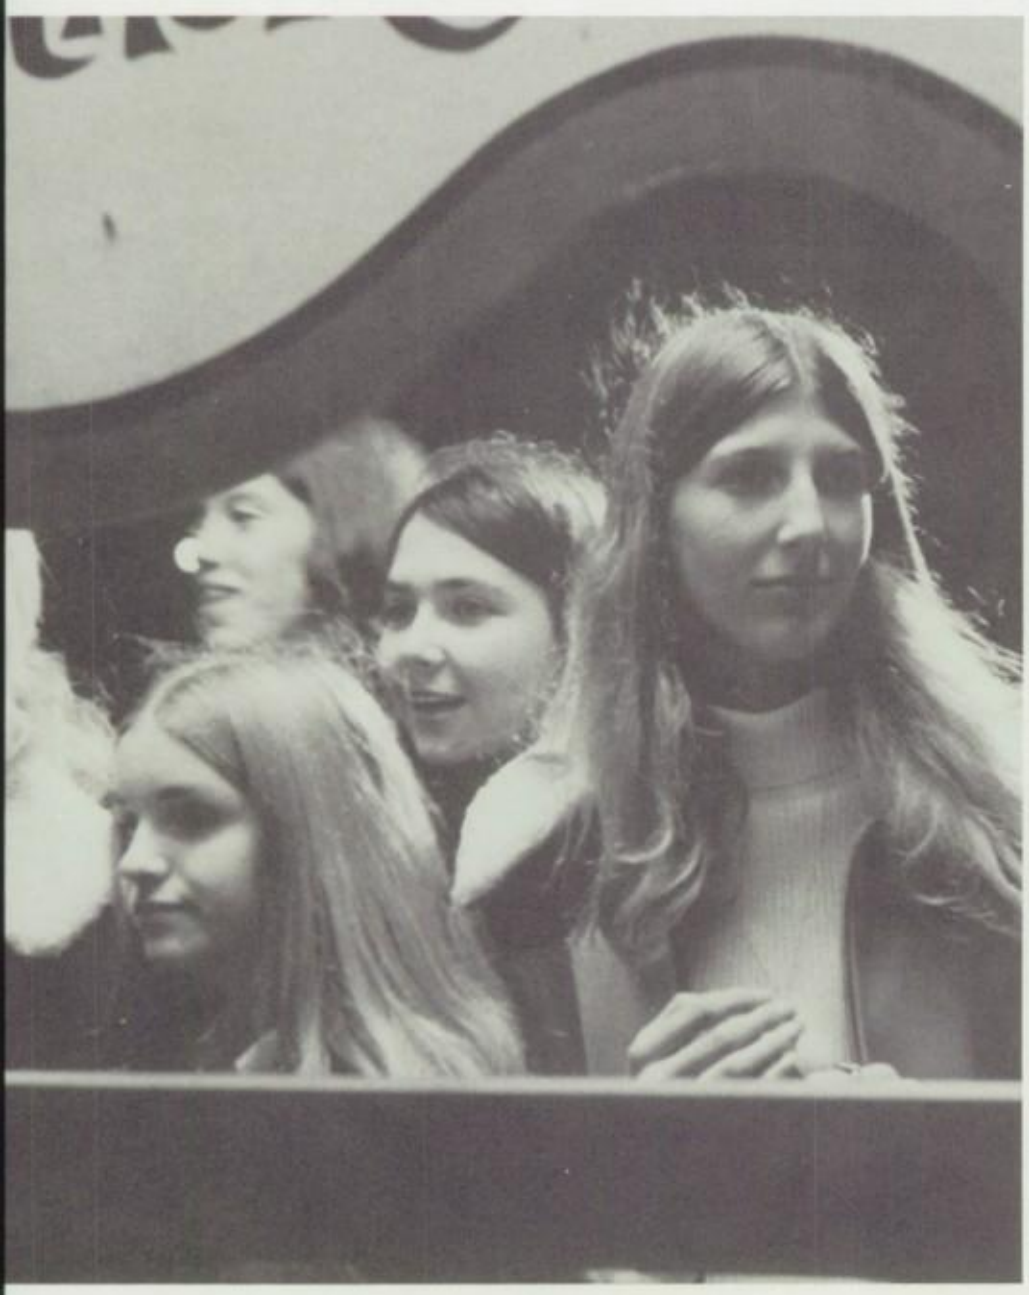
gives us faith . .

The game holds everyone's attention.



Is it any wonder Kay Stitt and Carol Micinski look so happy at the end of a school day?

Left: Colleen Enick, Mary Zimmerman, and Nancy Cadoret eagerly await their pizza after the football game.

. . . laughter lightens

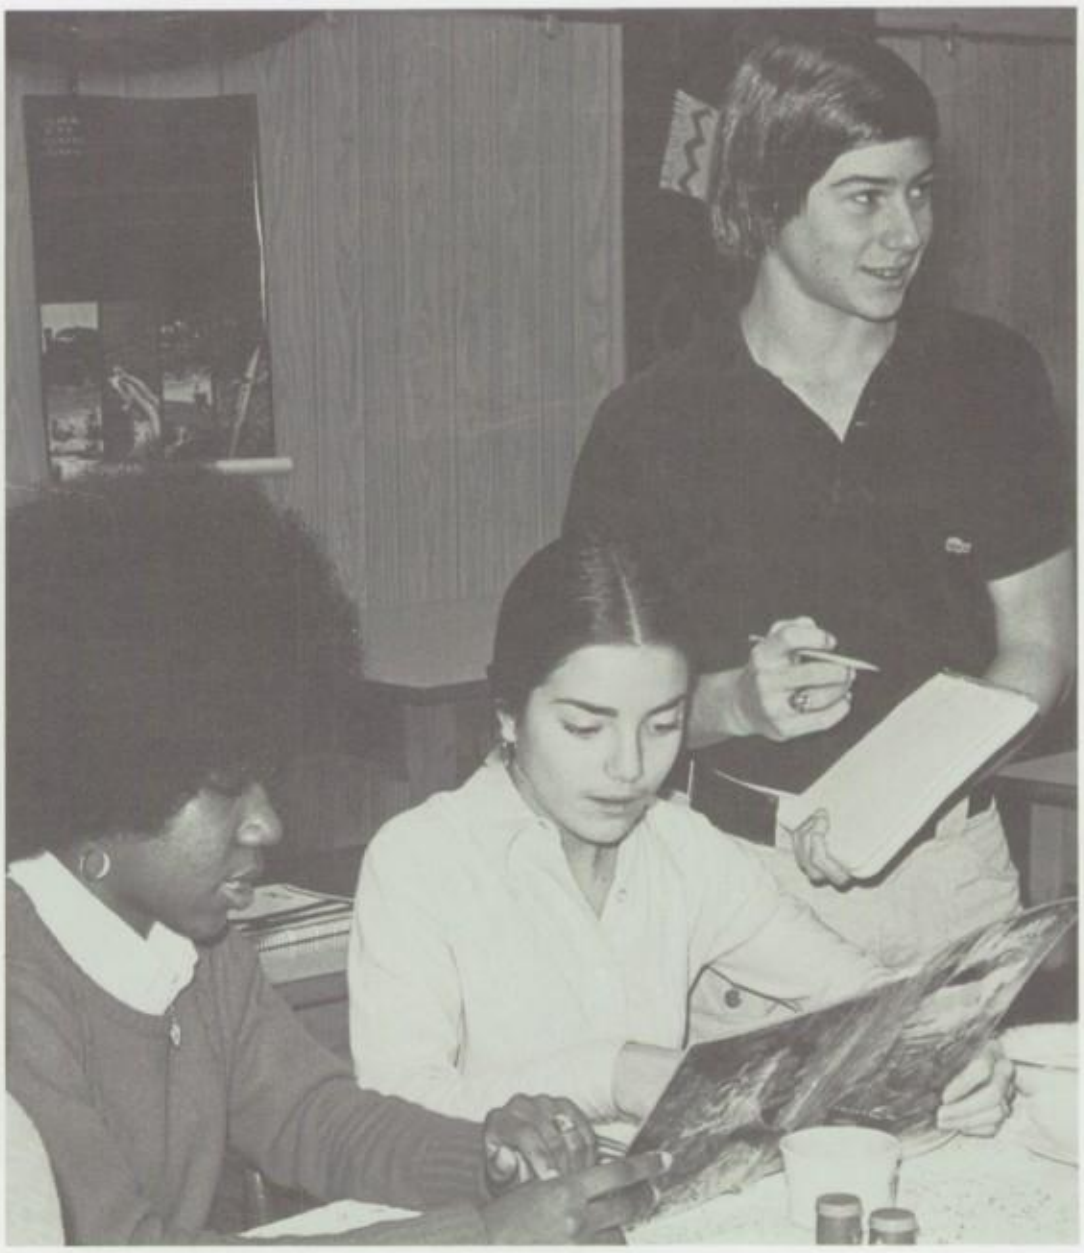
Diana Whiting reacts negatively to the T.B. detection test.

Joan Hinkle and Martha Dow concentrate on finding their rides after school.

Bill Carpenter moves in for a tackle during a spirited weekend football game.

our burdens



Bellido Feferman looks to Mrs. Aguero for reassurance in response to Catalina Scott's request for "Gazpatcho, por favor."

The Eagle Machine was supposed to mangle Marshall Robinson, but Marshall mangled the machine as Pat Kiley and Bruce Cassady look on.

We must

The slave choir expresses musically the anguish of the slaves.

Above: "The Ace of Spades" provides background music for these dancers.
Right: Dancers impress upon the audience what it means to be Black.

have vision . . .

In a flow of motion, Jennifer Grant and Herman Lee impress the student body with the beauty of modern dance.

The Black Movement in America is explained by Herman Lee.

To conclude their presentation, black students staged a stunning fashion show.

. . . and strong

Everyone wanted to get into the act when the sophomores tried to steal the senior's ladder. The seniors, of course, won.

Chuck Wilkenson panhandles a dime from Donald Field. Below: After an overdose of espresso coffee, Kim Kiley gives Jeannie Ertel an emergency first aid slap on the back.

Proudly admiring the sectional trophy is Vicki Wade.

At the Spanish party Karen and Sherri Wolf urge Miss Wills to have another cookie.

sensitive minds . . .

Below: Wistfully, Pam Siekmann contemplates another day of swim team practice.

. . . Hands which dare

The two-headed giant, Mark Risinger and Kurt Ely, prepare to defend the sectional trophy at all cost.

Indian squaw Dave VanRyan gets the big deal of the day, Chief Bruce Cassady.

After a vigorous demonstration of the "shoe bops," juniors swoon over Mike Wilbur, the leader of the pack.

to reach out . . .

Eagle chicks play ring around the Pbzy-bush during the spirited sectional pep assembly.

Left: Carol DeCoudres and Mark Woodford are mesmerized by the hypnotic beat of the Eagle Mash. Above: Seniors try diligently to win the spirit portion of the Spirit Week assembly.

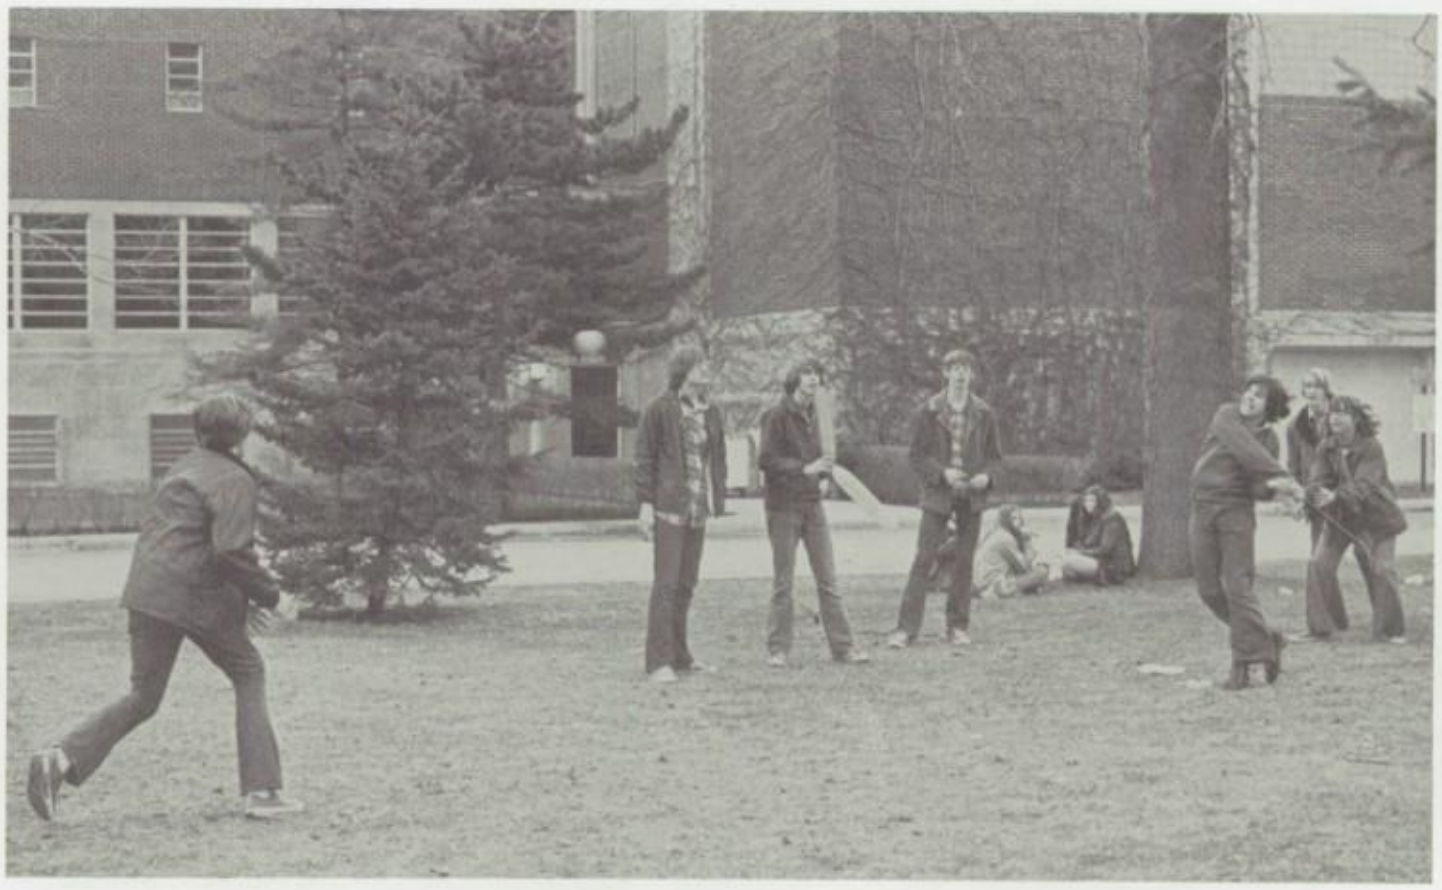
. . . People

Above: What would a mythology class be like without a play on THE ODYSSEY? Right: Spring weather brings students Sandy Duxbury, Dave Burdeen, and John Kertz outdoors for lunch.

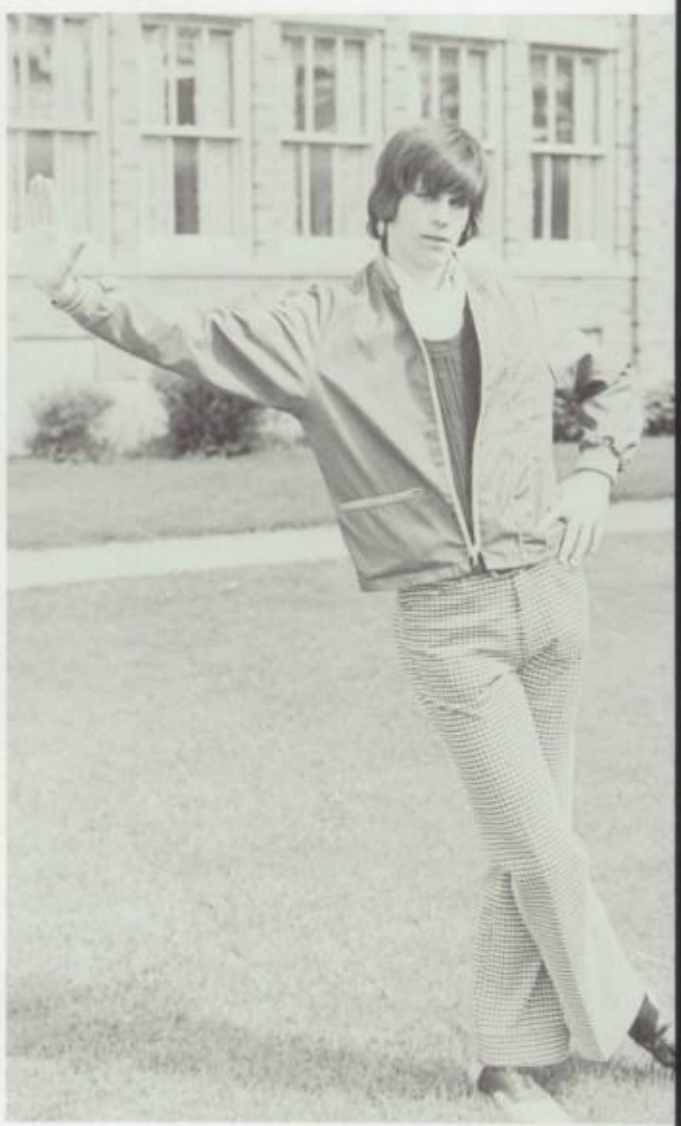
Below: Confident Jeff Hurwich escorts a doubtful Daryl Ashby on his horse. Right: Bea Morrow offers the protection of her umbrella to Debbie Keller during a sudden shower.

unfraid to fail . . .



Between Semi-state games at Purdue, Adams' basketball fans find time for fun and games.

. . . at a task we



Linda Wilson shares a joke with a friend at Barnaby's. Right: Officer Jim Byers finds traffic a little slow on the front lawn. Below right: Sara Yang, Hildy Kingma, Tammi Crammer, Paul Brunner, and Jill Yazel spend English class at the park.

Mary Sausman, Joan Doetsch, and Pat Sweitzer relay the day's gossip.

cannot refuse.

We must accept

Scott MacGregor, Sheila Hickey and Tony Davey try to beat the dealer at Mardi Gras.

Above: Students saunter around the Tower door enjoying the beauty of the school grounds. Right: Finding a minute to relax before returning to class, students lounge outside the cafeteria door.

and survive . . .

Above: It may look stupid, but it is a great way to do homework. Right: Marilyn Szalay takes Sharon Pallo to the laundry room for a good washing.

. . . The challenge

Julie Kertz and Mrs. Maza hustle to finish the Album while Lynn Rosewicz supervises.

Above: Annette Murphy and Dicky Cole decide whether or not to go to class. Below: Jennifer Wright, Diane Weston and Joyce Patterson enjoy the semi-state pep assembly.

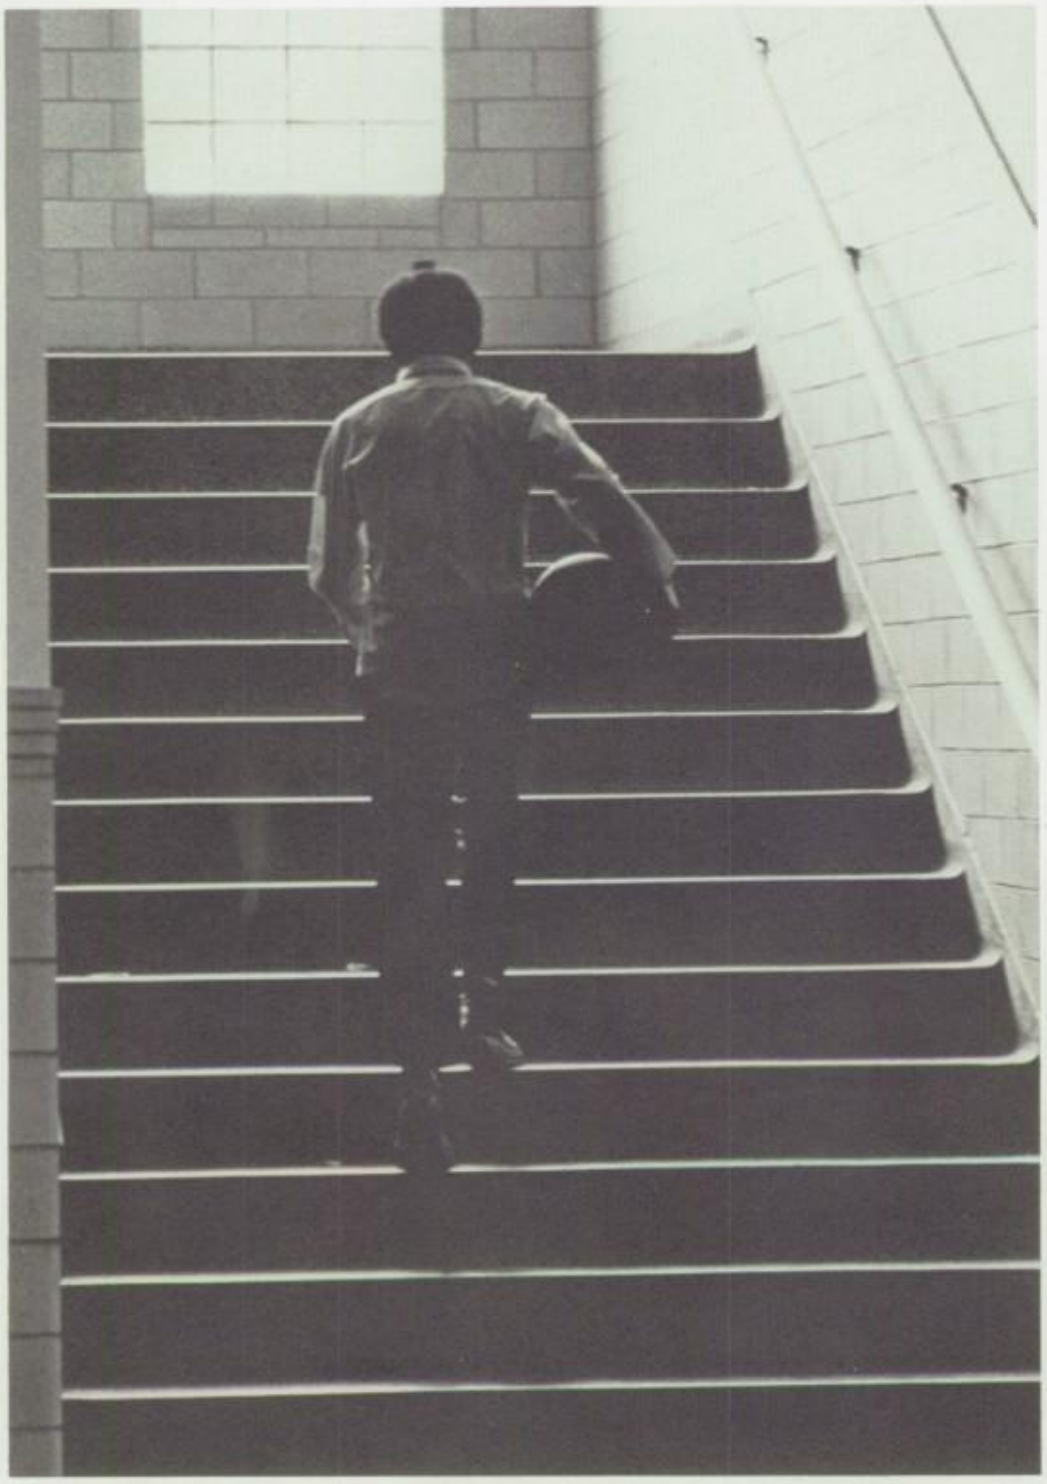
of life.



Could this be the day's lesson plans?

Above: Kevin Shaw goes up to the Album office for the big game during homeroom.
Right: Bruce Woodford and Donna Williams study for their upcoming finals.

Sitting on the grass proves to be more comfortable than standing at a track meet.

People are always saying, "Everything worthwhile has already been invented." But there are always other people — like the Wright Brothers . . the computer people . . the jet plane designers . . the geniuses who showed us how to generate electricity from atomic fuel — who go ahead and invent something anyway.

No, there's a lot left to invent. And the bigger our country gets, the more complex our society grows, the more new ideas we're going to need. And the more people who are able to recognize a good new idea when they see it!

Under the free enterprise system, there's an open market for ideas. And under the same system, the owners of those ideas can do with them whatever they like; sell them, give them away or use them to start a whole new industry.

Wonder what Chairman Mao's thoughts are on that?

We would like to thank the many people that have contributed to our Album: Mike Beck, cover; Photographers, Mr. Mike Allen, South Bend Tribune, Scott Shmikler, Mr. John Drapek and David Cook; Mr. Bud Leuthold, our Newsfoto Counselor; Typists, Jackie Dillman, Carol Heisler and all the wonderful people that helped Kathi Kimbriel with the index. We must not forget all those students that helped when we needed them, and the Adams' photographers for their extreme effort, and to Mrs. Babette Maza, our sponsor, a special appreciation for helping us publish this book.
